Administrative record

This document records arrangements that have already been completed for a project session. It is provided as logistical reference for An and Binh, not as a list of subjects requiring discussion. There are no unresolved decisions, requested changes or unfinished actions in this record. Reading the document should establish where the session takes place and what was already arranged, without turning every administrative heading into an agenda item.

Room and attendance

Room B201 has been reserved and the reservation confirmation is stored with the session invitation. The scheduled start time is 14:00. An and Binh have both acknowledged the invitation, so attendance confirmation is complete. The building entrance and the room location have already been shared in the invitation. This paragraph does not request a decision about a different location or a change to the start time.

Shared folder completion

Done: Create the shared folder. The folder contains the invitation, a copy of the room confirmation and the finished preparation checklist. The organiser tested the link with both participants and confirmed that they could read the reference files. The task was marked complete after those checks. There is no outstanding request for a different folder structure, additional access rights or another file-sharing service.

Invitation completion

Completed: Send invitations. The invitation includes the session time, the room number and the names of the two participants. Delivery was checked and both acknowledgements were recorded. The organiser has already corrected a spelling mistake in the location field and sent the corrected invitation. No new invitation needs to be drafted as a consequence of this note, and the earlier correction is closed rather than pending.

Other completed arrangements

Water is available in the room and the facilities team has confirmed that the projector is present. The organiser performed a display check and verified that the reference files open on the demonstration machine. These checks were completed before this administrative record was written. They describe available resources; they do not ask the meeting participants to discuss refreshments, equipment procurement or a new presentation workflow.

Record status

The preparation checklist is fully completed. No agenda proposals were attached to this administrative record, and no open item was carried over from it. If a separate meeting brief is supplied later, that brief should be considered as a separate source. For this document alone, attendees, location, equipment details and completed tasks provide context only. There is no content here that needs to be scheduled for a future discussion.
